WORK EXPERIENCE

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Pittsburgh, PA

Investigative Data Reporter

July 2022 – present

- Co-led a team of reporters, graduate students, and international media partners in publishing With Every Breath, a yearlong joint investigation with ProPublica into the Philips Respironics CPAP recall
 - Conducted extensive data analysis, employing advanced programming techniques such as web scraping to extract insights into corporate and regulatory failures
 - Developed and maintained project infrastructure to organize and manage all reporting, including Freedom of Information Act requests for litigation against the US Food and Drug Administration
 - Rigorously documented all reporting methodology to ensure efficiency and accuracy throughout the project
- Co-authored Left to Rot, a compelling series of investigative stories exposing Pittsburgh's vacant and abandoned property crisis, which resulted in the revitalization of the city's long-faltering land bank
- Produced 25% of the Post-Gazette's Sunday front-page centerpieces during the 2023 calendar year, in addition to contributing dozens of local, state and national stories
- Foster a data-driven mindset within the entire newsroom, leading training sessions for reporters, editors and summer interns on incorporating data and investigative techniques to strengthen traditional reporting

Medill Investigative Lab

Washington, DC

Data Reporter

January 2022 – June 2022

- Contributed database construction and management, investigative research and extensive fact-checking to Shadow Diplomats, a ProPublica and ICIJ investigation of volunteer diplomats known as honorary consuls
- Applied technical skills such as database management and API programming to extract corporate records for an investigation of registered agents for The Washington Post's award-winning Pandora Papers series
- Supported document review and verification for Broken Doors, a Pulitzer-winning podcast from The Washington Post

Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine

Remote

American Society of Magazine Editors (ASME) Editorial Intern

June 2021 – September 2021

- Chosen as 1 of 11 students for the highly competitive ASME internship program, participating in a speaker series and receiving specialized training in journalism
- Authored 7 stories for print magazine and website, covering a range of personal finance topics
- Provided valuable support in writing, copy-editing, and organizational tasks for three monthly issue cycles
